Dresden, Oct. 15. The Letters Patent for Re-establishment of the Trade with Brandenburg, are to the following Effect. By the Grace of God, Frederick August, King of Poland, &c. Duke of Saxony, &c. Elector, &c. &c. Whereas we have agreed with his Prussian Majesty, in a friendly and neighbourly Manner, to enter into Treaty about the Differences which have arisen with regard to Commercial Affairs, and, in the mean Time, to abrogate all Prohibitions and Impossts issued out on both Sides since the Leipzik Easter Fair of the present Year, and to re-establish every Thing upon the same Footing as before the said Fair. In Pursuance of this our Agreement, it is our Pleasure, that the general Prohibitions issued in our Electoral and Hereditary Countries, with regard to the Prussian Commerce on the 27th of May, 7th of June, and 10th of July, shall be abrogated, as the same will be done on his Prussian Majesty's Side, with respect to his Prohibitions, and Things remain, from this Day till farther Order, in the Condition in which they were before the Leipzik Easter Fair of this Year. Therefore we order all our Vassals, Officers, Counsellors, and Magistrates, not only to observe themselves these our Commands, but also to make them known immediately to every one, especially to those Merchants, Manufacturers, and Tradesmen, who negociate and traffick in the Prussian Countries, &c.
